Nancy Wynne Chats About the Nalle-Borie Wedding in Jenkintown Today—She Speaks of the Plays and Players' Club Nights Next Week

MOST of us will be going Jenkins-town today to Patty Borie's wedding. It's to take place at 1 o'clock, you know, in the Church of the Saviour, Jenkintown. Patty will have two of her cousins as attendants, Marion Taylor is to be maid of honor, and Virginia Newbold will be flower girl. Her mother was Miss Nannie Newbold, who has a sister, Mr. John Sargent Newbold, who is Virginia's father, and of Mrs. William Taylor, who was Miss Emily Newbold.

Owing to the recent death of Mr. Arthur Emlen Newbold the wedding today will be very quiet and will be followed by a small reception. Patty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beauneau Borie, and a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beauneau Borie. She is named for her grandmother, who was Miss Patty Neill. She is distinctly a Borie in type, dark like her father and aunt, Mrs. George Beals, of Boston, who was Miss Emily Borie.

Bert Nalle, who is the bridegroom of today, all along is the son of the late Mr. Jesse Nalle and Mrs. Nalle, of Bryn Mawr, and a brother of Angela Nalle, who married Paul Corr in the late spring. His brother, Dick Nalle, married Dorothy Disston.

The Plays and Players are starting their active year again, and the forty-eighth club night will be celebrated in the club rooms on Monday, when three plays will be given under the direction of Mrs. Howard Reber. The first is written by a Russian, Nicholas Eyskine, and is entitled "A Mercury Death." The actors will be Joe Deering, David Logie, George Edwards and Rachel Page.

A second one-set play will be entitled "Audace and John." It was written by Gilbert Cannon, and the cast includes Elmer Melick, Samuel McDowell, Elizabeth Oliver and Mr. Reber.

The third play is called "Sham," and is by Frank G. Tompkins. The actors are: Bert Holland, Mrs. Thomas Hammer, Charles Mitchell and William Jamison Jr.

I love those nights at the Plays and Players. They are so informal and such fun. I am certainly looking forward to Monday night, as of course, Tuesday will be opera and consequently, I cannot go to the Plays and Players that night.

Want of wonderful back at the old Academy? I just love that old place. And it has been so beautifully done up it will seem like a dip back into the real Philadelphia of other days with modern comfort to make it even more attractive.

Someone one never felt it was quite right to go way up town to opera. And now that the Midwinter ball and the Benelicks ball are to be given in the fever there this year it will be quite like old times, won't it?

The Midwinter is to be on January 14, and Benedicks on December 28, you know.

THIS invitation showing of the French movie, which is to be held at the Bellevue-Stratford on Thursday night, will be a very fashionable affair. Every day I hear of different box parties that are being arranged, and some are mentioned in connection with it.

The film is the story of Du Barry and the French Revolution. The pictures were taken in France before the recent war, and the palaces and gardens and old streets are beautiful. How do I know? Well, I attended a private showing of the film and the photography is very remarkable.

Among those who have accepted boxes and who will entertain in them on Thursday are: Governor and Mrs. Sprout, Mr. and Mrs. Van Rensselaer, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Kirk Price, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Dixey, Mr. and Mrs. Varnell, Mr. and Mrs. William Baker Whalen, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Lorimer, Mr. and Mrs. James Francis Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Stevenson, the Mayor and Mrs. Moore, Colonel and Mrs. John Muckle, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Patterson, General Waller and Mrs. Waller and several others.

THAT was a most interesting tea at the Pennsylvania League of Girls' Clubs on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Abbie Sutherland Brown failed for a short time on what a girl really wants; that it is not really a good time always and pretty things, but a beautiful character and all the energies should go to that. There were music and refreshments, and it was altogether a beautiful party.

The next tea will be held at the League rooms on Sunday afternoon, November 21, and I hear that Elizabeth Thompson, Mrs. George H. Lorimer, is the most attractive actress there. Mrs. George Lorimer is hostess for the November teas and Mrs. H. C. Boyer is chairman for the year. Different women have promised to hostess the teas through the winter months. The tea room is at 231 Chestnut street, and the headquarters for the various girl clubs throughout the city. It was formerly called the Pennsylvania League for Women Workers. Whitford Lodge is the summer house run by the association and Adele's lunch room is another interest of the place.

THE telephone man had been making repairs and had just left the house when said May was found busily mending with the receiver. Auntie entreated her to account in a severe tone, "What are you doing, May?"

And May, gazing innocently into face may reply, "Only detesting the wives, Aunt Em."
